President's Corner

While some people think interest in Lewis & Clark will fall away now that the Bicentennial is history, here in Oregon we are simply moving to a new level of commitment. Our congressional delegation is working to establish a new heritage area at the mouth of the Columbia, our Chapter's first board meeting of the new year was well attended, a year-long calendar was tentatively established, and Ted Kaye is leading us into a full-scale inventory of Lewis & Clark legacy projects.

I'm still meeting people who are impressed by the Corps of Discovery's stories and how the Bicentennial commemoration reminded us of those lessons for 2007. In that vein, I urge you to join Ellie and me on the afternoon of March 24th in Vancouver (details below) to see for ourselves how the future generation is making those connections. We will hear from students, teachers, and community representatives in Oregon and Washington who created public art projects following the example of Maya Lin (www.confluenceproject.org/wp/). In each case they studied the Lewis & Clark story, the tribes they met, and the environmental context for their area, then created and documented indoor or outdoor artworks that will live on for future generations.

Let's show these future Chapter members that we support their initiative and welcome them someday as members of our Foundation.

Holiday Dinner at Lewis & Clark College

The Chapter's annual holiday celebration was held at Lewis & Clark College on December 3, 2006. Over 45 people enjoyed a great event.

Dr. Susan Colby spoke on the life and adventures of Jean Baptiste Charbonneau. Her recently published book, Sacagawea's Child: the Life and Times of Jean Baptiste (Pomp) Charbonneau, can be found on Amazon.com.

Musical entertainment was provided by Jack Rich, a flautist of Cherokee heritage who shared a sampling of flutes and the rich cultural heritage of Native American music. Brad Yazzolino also showed the final version of his 18-minute video on the commemorative native art at Portland's Blue Lake Park (site of the village at Nichaqlwli). [For a copy of the DVD, contact Larry McClure.]

Doug Erickson represented Lewis & Clark College as the host of the event.

Upcoming Fort Clatsop Events

The Fort Clatsop Visitor Center is hosting a speakers series. Speakers include culinary historian Mary Gunderson talking about researching the expedition's cuisine on Feb. 18; geologist Brian Atwater talking about evidence of the 1700 tsunami on March 18; and meteorologist George Miller talking about the 1805-06 weather at Fort Clatsop on April 15. Mike Carrick talked about the firearms and edged weapons of the Corps of Discovery on Jan. 21. Carrick is a historian and writer specializing in weapons of the period, and the past president of our Chapter. For more information, call the Lewis & Clark National Historical Park at 503-861-2471 ext. 214. Location: 92343 Fort Clatsop Road, Astoria.

2007 Chapter Events—Save These Dates!

Sept/Oct. Archaeologist

December 9 Annual Holiday Dinner at Lewis & Clark College

Visit our website for more details, and contact Larry McClure with ideas or offers to help!

Board Business

During the Chapter's annual business meeting in December, members reluctantly accepted Mike Carrick's resignation as chapter president. They elected Larry McClure to fill Mike's unexpired term through 2007, and elected Mike Carrick to fill Larry's unexpired term as a director through 2008.

Larry serves on the national board and ably chaired the host committee for the foundation's annual meeting in Portland in 2005. Members also re-elected Doug Erickson as vice president and Dick Hohnbaum as treasurer for terms through through 2008, and re-elected Roger Wendlick, Glen Kirkpatrick, and Gentry Cutsforth as directors for terms through 2009.

Officers: Larry McClure, President '07
Doug Erickson, Vice President '08
Ted Kaye, Secretary '07
Dick Hohnbaum, Treasurer '08

Chapter Committees—Please Volunteer

The Chapter's board has established four committees to further its work:

Program (role: coordinate chapter events)
[Larry McClure, chair]

Education (role: lead connections to schools)
[Pat Nida, chair]

Stewardship (role: conduct the inventory and lead trail stewardship)

Membership/Marketing (roles: oversee member recruiting and retention, through database maintenance, the website, and the newsletter)

The president will invite officers, directors, and chapter members to join and lead these committees.

Please contact Larry with your questions and expressions of interest.

From the Membership Secretary

If your membership in our Chapter has lapsed, this will be your last newsletter. Please "re-enlist"!

Membership offers many exciting Lewis & Clark-related experiences each year. We organize four to six chapter events each year and publicize many others. Our excellent website www.or-lcthf.org gives information on past, current, and future meetings. And we are pursuing some very interesting projects with opportunities to add to the Corps' Oregon legacy.

Please renew your membership: $10 individual, $16 family.

Glen Kirkpatrick
32523 S. Wright Road,
Molalla, OR 97038

You'll notice that this newsletter is thinner than in the past. That's because there is now far more L&C information available on our website!

L&C COLLEGE LIBRARY WINS PRESERVATION GRANT

Mark Johnson and friends perform at the August 2005 Annual Meeting of the Foundation, in front of the flags of L&C Encounter Tribes in the chapel at Lewis & Clark College

The National Endowment for the Humanities has given a Preservation Assistance Grant to Lewis & Clark College for an assessment of the collections in its Library.

The assessment will focus on its special and archival collections, including its collection of books, newspapers, pamphlets, and manuscripts related to the Lewis & Clark Expedition. The program helps small/mid-size institutions improve their ability to preserve and care for their collections.

Congratulations to our colleagues at Lewis & Clark: Doug Erickson, Roger Wendlick, & Jeremy Skinner!

THANKS, MIKE!

After serving as Chapter president 2005-06, Mike Carrick has passed the esponsion of leadership on to Larry McClure. We thank Mike for his genial and learned guidance through the bicentennial's end.
